IN THE LOCAL CHURCHES

The Fairmont Ministerial association, through its president, the Rev. C. E. Goodwin, has issued the following call to prayer:

The Ministerial association of the city is calling the membership of the several churches to special prayer on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. As the church people of the city shall not be permitted to assemble in their respective places of worship because of the order of the board of health, it is thought that a special hour of prayer in the homes of the city would prove very beneficial. It is suggested that a portion of the scripture be read, the regular Sunday school lesson would be very appropriate, and prayers offered by members of the family. It is hardly necessary that any suggestion be made as to the subject of our prayers. This prayer service will give emphasis to the place of the church in the home.

C. E. GOODWIN,
President Ministerial Assn.

Trinity M. E. Church.
All members and friends of Trinity M. E. church are requested to bring their contributions to the church between the hours of 3 and 4 Sunday afternoon. Bro. G. W. Kent, secretary of the board, will be there to receive it and give credit for same.

"By order of Steward Board."

First Methodist.
The First Methodist Episcopal church will be open at 10 o'clock and will remain open all day. Those desiring Sunday school literature, papers, etc., may secure the same any time during the day. This will afford an opportunity for the membership to leave their weekly offerings. Individuals may tarry for prayer. A few minutes spent in the church in silent prayer will mean much to us. It will make the day seem more like the Sabbath day.

C. E. Goodwin, Pastor.

Central Christian Church.
The up-stairs auditorium of the Central Christian church will be open Sunday from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m. This is done to accommodate the membership in making their weekly contribution and in getting the regular Sunday school literature.

lowing influenza.

Miss Maria Here left yesterday afternoon for the Monongahela for New York city to spend several weeks.

Mrs. S. E. W. Burnside and son and daughter who had been the guests of the former's mother, Mrs. C. B. Nay on Walnut avenue left yesterday for their home in Pittsburgh.

Miss Mildred Haymond is recovering from a week's illness at her home on Cleveland avenue.

Mrs. John A. Clark Jr. is recovering from a week's illness from influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Jacobs of Clarksburg composed a motoring party through here yesterday en route to Waynesburg Pa. They were guests for an hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hefner on Cleveland avenue.

Buy a Liberty Bond

Come on girls and
Shell out you "Mon"
To help Uncle Sam
Lick the Hun.
For your beau is over there
And so is mine.

Buy a Liberty Bond, girls.
We're just in time.
We can wear our old hats,
Press our old suits,
Make over old dresses
And shine our old boots.
For your beau is over there
And so is mine.

Buy a Liberty Bond, Girls.
We're just in time.
We won't buy chocolates,
And our noses won't powder
We will save our "Mon"
To help General Crowder.
For your beau is over there
And so is mine.

Buy a Liberty Bond, Girls
We're just in time.
We can wear cotton hose,
Make our skirts longer
So nobody knows.
For your beau is over there
And so is mine.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

To be Buried at Maple Grove.

Funeral services over the body of Ruby Stanley, aged 8 years, little daughter of Mrs. Okey Stanley, who died yesterday at the family home on Blaine street, will be held on Sunday at noon at Maple Grove cemetery, followed by interment there under the direction of Undertaker Jenkins.

To Have Open Air Funeral.

The body of Thelma, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dent Holden, will be interred tomorrow morning at Woodlawn cemetery. A brief open air funeral service will be held at the home on the East side and the body will be buried under the direction of Undertaker Jenkins.

Mrs. Agnes Elder Bock.

Mrs. Agnes Elder Bock, aged 25, wife of Joseph Bock, died on Wednesday at her home at Farmington after an illness from influenza. On the following day their infant daughter, Mary Elizabeth Bock, aged 16 months, died from the same disease. The family was preparing to move to Worthington when the mother and children were taken ill. Mrs. Bock is survived by her husband and father, a sister Lillian and a brother Elder, who is in France with the American forces. The bodies were interred yesterday in the Bock cemetery.

Mrs. Bock was a woman of splendid character and her baby was a bright attractive little girl. The sad circumstances surrounding their deaths have attracted deep sympathy on the part of relatives and friends for the stricken family.

Arnett Funeral Plans.

The body of Gilbert Arnett, whose death occurred in the Norfolk Naval hospital on Thursday night, probably will arrive here this evening, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Arnett, and his wife. A telegram received today stated that Mr. and Mrs. Arnett would arrive here this evening at 6 o'clock and that the body would come by express. On arrival it will be taken to the home of his parents on Spring street, from which it will be buried, services being held some time tomorrow. Mrs. C. B. Chaffell and Mrs. J. W. Peppers, of Parkersburg, aunts of the deceased, arrived here last night called by his death. Undertaker Jenkins has charge of the arrangements.

Funeral of Russell Straight.

The body of Russell Straight, whose death occurred on Wednesday at his home at Morgantown from influenza, was brought here today at 1:10 o'clock. It was taken directly to Woodlawn cemetery, where interment was made. A large number of relatives and friends met the funeral party at the depot and accompanied it to the cemetery, where a brief service was held and interment made by Undertaker Jenkins.
